1A. Chicago Triad Completion

 Fully Delivered

100-Day Objective 1. Ensure seamless continuity of service to the public		Department(s) Valuations
Initiative Name 1A. Chicago Triad Completion	Description Complete all work related to the Chicago Triad	Impact: High Difficulty: Low Priority: B
100-Day Achievements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Cook County Assessor's Office (CCAO) has completed all outstanding work for the 2018 Assessment Year, with some Certificates of Error still outstanding. The CCAO has documented and reviewed the office's procedures on AR (Assessor Recommendations), C of C's (Certificates of Correction), C of E's (Certificates of Error), and re-review. Changes to some of these processes are reflected in the new rules for lawyers, tax representatives and practitioners doing business with the CCAO. In response to an issue raised about the Class 9 Incentive, the CCAO undertook a project to determine the number of properties that qualified for the Class 9 Incentive in the 2018 Assessment Year, contacted each property owner, and informed them of any missing or outstanding documentation that must be submitted to our office. The CCAO determined that the 2018 population of Class 9 is 758 properties and has been working to follow up with each property owner to reinstate them back into Class 9 after the documentation was submitted and approved, and informed them that they might be eligible for past year Certificates of Error. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The CCAO has identified a long-term project to improve how new construction and demolition are captured by our office. 100-Day Objective 1. Ensure seamless continuity of service to the public		Department(s) Valuations
Initiative Name 1B. North Triad Reassessment	Description Deliver on-time 2019 reassessment of North Triad	Impact: High Difficulty: Medium/High Priority: B
100-Day Achievements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The CCAO began the 2019 reassessment of the North Triad by separating out the modeling functions of the office into a new Data and Modeling Department. The Data and Modeling department has built, tested, and deployed a new residential modeling process that has been used by the Valuations Department to deliver high quality, on-time assessments for the first three townships in the North Triad. The Valuations and Legal Departments have written and released new rules for lawyers, tax representatives and practitioners doing business with the CCAO. The Valuations, Data, and Communications Departments have released residential and Industrial Commercial (I/C) reports for each township completed in the North Triad. The Commercial Valuations Department has improved the process for valuing income producing properties by employing property use type models, market based research on capitalization rates, and utilizing industry standard valuation practices for rents, vacancies, and expenses. The CCAO has begun to implement a staffing plan for the Valuations Department. The CCAO continues to work with the International Association of Assessing Officers (IAAO) on an audit of the office's operations (see initiative 2D). The second phase of the audit will include ongoing consultation with experts in valuations and assessment. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Data and Modeling Department will soon begin work on the I/C modeling process. The Valuations, Legal, and IT Departments have begun to scope a long-term project to implement online filing of forms, starting with the Real Estate Income and Expense Worksheet (RPIE) form in 2019. The CCAO plans to release further reports at the end of the triennial cycle (late 2019) with the models, code, and accompanying documentation used in the North Triad assessment. The CCAO has made changes to the notices taxpayers receive, and will continue to make improvements. The Valuations Department has begun to restructure the Special Properties Division to reevaluate which properties fall into this division, and implement industry's best practices. The CCAO is working to expand the information given to those who appeal, beyond a simple approval or denial.

The CCAO has consulted with Assessors at our peer offices across the country, including the Los Angeles County Office of the Assessor and the City of Milwaukee Assessor's Office, on their processes for developing a mission, vision, and values statement and broader strategic planning. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The mission and vision statements are in the drafting phase. 100-Day Achievements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The CCAO has completed its budget for 2019 through a process that began with a series of listening sessions conducted with Administrative Operations and each department. Out of these sessions (Initiative 2F), each department formulated a series of budget asks and completed a new budget template. The Administrative Operations Department is using these budget templates, standard across the office, to prepare for both the 2019 and 2020 budgets in the Spring of 2019, on schedule. The most significant changes to operations have occurred in the Valuations Department. Previously, valuations-related processes fell under the responsibility of three Deputy Assessors. Consolidating all such processes under one Deputy Assessor has provided for better continuity of service and consistency of assessment methodology. The CCAO continues to evaluate the training needs of the office and how to streamline work across different departments, units, and divisions. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Looking ahead to the 2020 budget and operating plan, the CCAO is preparing for the implementation of iasWorld (Tyler Technologies' CAMA system). 100-Day Objective 5. Update CCAO's information technology infrastructure		Department(s) Information Technology, Valuations
Initiative Name 5D. Tyler Implementation	Description Continue Tyler Technologies project development and implementation	Impact: High Difficulty: High Priority: B
100-Day Achievements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The CCAO has reviewed existing project requirements and documentation with a fresh set of eyes, and has recorded deficiencies with Tyler's future state documentation to identify potential risks and ensure that the future state meets the actual needs of the CCAO and Cook County's assessment cycle. The CCAO is working to re-engage internal subject matter experts (SME's), to increase the staff's familiarity, comfort, and buy-in with the future state. The CCAO has held meetings with the Board of Review, Cook County Clerk, Cook County Treasurer, and Illinois Department of Revenue, as well as the Office of the Cook County Board President, to update each office impacted by the IPTS project as to the status of the Assessor's Office implementation. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> At the time of the transition, the Tyler implementation had been delayed from a previously scheduled go-live of December 2018 to December 2019. Presently, the project still has significant delays in critical areas, placing in jeopardy the updated go-live and the ability of CCAO to upgrade its existing core technology.

Initiative Name 6B. Publish North Triad Framework	Description Publish framework for reassessment of North Triad and rules for appeal process	Impact: Medium Difficulty: High Priority: A
100-Day Achievements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The CCAO has published (and continues to publish) its framework for the 2019 North Triad assessment in township level reports. For residential, these reports include township and neighborhood-specific analysis of sales trends, an explanation of the home characteristic data that also affects the models we create, and a set of uniformity and compliance statistics we use to measure our work against IAAO standards and Illinois state law. For commercial, these reports include a breakdown of the CCAO's assessment methodology and township-specific data on net operating income, occupancy rates, and capitalization rates broken down by class and use type. The CCAO has published a set of official rules providing requirements, parameters and guidance to attorneys and practitioners doing business with the CCAO. The CCAO has held informational sessions on these new rules with internal staff, township assessors, and attorneys and practitioners. The code and models used in our assessments were published online during a Chi Hack Night event, a gathering of data journalists and open government enthusiasts. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> At the conclusion of the CCAO's assessment of the North Triad in late 2019, the office has committed to publishing a broad overview of the data and trends found in its assessments.

Initiative Name 6D. Community Outreach	Description Identify community outreach initiatives and partners	Impact: Medium Difficulty: Low Priority: A
100-Day Achievements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The CCAO held more than 23 events between December 2018 and April 2019. • The CCAO held meetings with all 17 Cook County Commissioners and all township assessors. • The CCAO distributed a survey to several community organizations and nonprofits to better understand how the CCAO can meet the needs of the taxpayers. • The CCAO continues to develop a list of stakeholders to better understand the different groups (governmental agencies and offices, community organizations and nonprofits, business groups and chambers of commerce, etc.) our office interacts with). • The CCAO has worked to streamline paperwork intake processes with elected offices such as the Cook County Commissioners that perform their own outreach on property tax issues. • The CCAO has developed a public scheduling process that allows organizations, nonprofits, and other groups to request an outreach event and/or an event with the Assessor on our website. • The CCAO continues to learn from the best practices of other assessment jurisdictions, including neighboring counties in Illinois. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • While the CCAO does have outreach staff experienced in conducting outreach events in Spanish (and staff in Taxpayer Services experienced in both Spanish and Polish), the office is engaged in a long-term effort to increase language access across the board. This effort will include the translation of forms, the hiring of new staff, translation services available at public events, and much more. • Following the Assessor's Listening Tour in April and May of 2019, the CCAO plans to continue experimenting and iterating on the format of outreach events. • The CCAO is committed to conducting outreach and engagement through the lens of racial equity.

100-Day Objective 6. Overhaul CCAO's approach to communications, outreach, and transparency		Department(s) Communications, Data
Initiative Name 6E. Online Historical Data	Description Make historical assessment data available online	Impact: Low Difficulty: Medium Priority: C
100-Day Achievements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The goal of this initiative is to publish the data necessary for the replication of the CCAO's residential valuation process. This includes modeling data, valuation data, and the necessary ancillary data for various calculations. The CCAO has released timely reports on the current assessments being done township by township in the North Triad, but has not yet released historical data on a bulk basis. We published historical data on the County Open Data Portal on April 16, 2019 to coincide with the release of the code we are currently using to assess the North Triad. This contained sales from 2013-2018. We are currently performing the necessary housekeeping tasks (dictionaries, recodes, integrity checks, etc.) required for publication. 		100-Day Shortfalls and Ongoing Projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Accurate, high-quality data is critical for the execution of this office's mandate. We need to rigorously investigate our data, identify weaknesses, and craft remedies, both in the short term, and long term. As we work to bring transparency to the assessment system, we are still thinking through a number of questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> How far back should the release of historical data go? How long will it take to assemble this data? A great deal of the office's records are stored and filed on paper. The CCAO is in need of massive digitization. What are the resources needed for this effort? Who checks our work? How do we let people (reporters, academics, assessment experts) check our work? How can the CCAO establish a collaborator policy to facilitate research and innovation with our data?
